DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention: species I drawn to claim 6 claiming "a flexible joint member comprises a solid rubber member," species II drawn to claim 7 claiming a "flexible joint member comprises a hollow rubber member," species III drawn to claim 8 claiming a "flexible joint member comprises a flexible metal member," species IV drawn to claim 9 claiming a "flexible joint member comprises a elastic polymer member." In addition to this category of species the application contains a second set of patentably distinct species of the claimed invention: species A drawn to claim 10 claiming the "location indicating element is a permanent magnet," species B drawn to claim 11 claiming the "location indicating element comprises a plurality of permanent magnets," species C drawn to claim 12 claiming the "location indication element is an electromagnet," species D drawn to claim 13 claiming the "location indicating element is a radio frequency coil," species D drawn to claim 14 claiming the "location indicating element is an antenna," and species E drawn to claim 15 claiming the "location indicating element is a strain relief sensor."

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 1 & 18 are generic.

Applicant must elect one species from each election. For example, if species I were chosen, then species II through IV and their claims would be withdrawn from the application as the nonelected species. Similarly, for the second category of species, if species A were chosen the species B through E and their claims would be withdrawn from the application as nonelected species.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

A telephone call was made to Michael Donohue on August 23, 2005 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
